BERLIN REDS SET UP BLOC TO 'FREE' CITY

Anti-Communists Claim Plan Is One To Take Over Capital

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Sept. 4—Berlin's Communists today pushed their campaign to wrest power from the anti-Communist city government by forming what they called "a three-party democratic bloc representing the real interests of the people."
Anti-Communist leaders labeled the bloc an "action committee through which Communists hope to take control of the city."
While the bloc plan was being touted, the Communist press threatened reprisals against German forcing a western government at Bonn and accused them of "High treason."

Drive For Coup
American authorities interpreted the Communist bloc maneuver as another attempt to advance the Soviet position here while four-power negotiations on solving the Berlin crisis continue. A fifth meeting of the four military governors was scheduled today.

The Communists declared Christian Democrats and Liberal Democrats and Liberal Democrats are ready to join with the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party (SED) in forming the bloc.

Taeigliche Rundschau, official organ of the Soviet military administration, declared:
"Every German who helps at Bonn to create a western German separate state tears the unity of Germany. Some day he will be asked to account for it."

Meantime the Russians kept up their drive to take over political control of Berlin, despite the continuing four-power talks here aimed at solving the 75-day crisis.

In one move a group of pro-Soviet political parties met at city hall and formed a "democratic bloc." They appointed a committee to negotiate with the anti-Communist city administration "for the elimination of the present emergency."
Rundschau's attack was concentrated on members of the conservative Christian Democrats and the moderate left Social Democrats, western Germany's major parties.

The paper accused them of "selling out Germany under the Marshall plan and politically dismembering her. The facts are decisive and they prove the existence of high treason."
While the "democratic bloc" held its meeting in the city hall in the Soviet sector of Berlin, there was no indication this was the final coup.

OHIO STATE FAIR SETS NEW RECORD

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4—The 94th Ohio state fair went out with a bang last night, adding 25,367 to a record attendance of 390,932 for the week. Last year's fair claimed only 346,229 visitors.

Flying farmers were the day's honored guests, and Clifford Coffman, operator of a 580-acre farm near Carroll, was named flying farmer of the nation.

The junior fair's sweepstakes trophy went to 18-year-old Robert Kin of Upper Sandusky. Kin captured most prizes in junior fair exhibits.

Gordon Butterfield, 17, of Hamilton, was another junior fair winner, placing first over all breeds with his 1,110 pound Hereford steer.

The 4-H style revue and a trip to the national 4-H Congress in Chicago went to Bonnie Lou Snider, 18, of Plain City.

DUTCH QUEEN ENDS REIGN

Daughter Juliana To Succeed Wilhelmina In Rites Monday

(By Associated Press)
AMSTERDAM, The Netherlands, Sept. 4—Queen Wilhelmina abdicated today in a ceremony of quiet grandeur, after 50 years of Dutch rule.

She was succeeded by her daughter, Juliana, 39, mother of four daughters.

The new queen who already has served twice as princess regent for the tired old lady of Apeldoorn, took office late, early when Wilhelmina signed the instrument of resignation.

Her 68-year-old mother plans to retire to the countryside and devote herself to gardening, painting and needle work.

Juliana will be installed formally as queen Monday at an investiture at the Nieuwe Kerk (new church) near the palace. The ceremony will be attended by diplomats from all over the world and delegations from the royal houses of Europe.

Although the formal investiture is Monday, Juliana actually becomes ruler today and officially took over an empire of 65,000,000 including 9,000,000 home landers.

The "adolescent" in Dam square was selected by Wilhelmina for the abdication ceremony. With the signing of the instrument, she becomes dowager princess of the realm and 10-year-old princess Beatrix, eldest daughter of Juliana became heir presumptive.

Thirty-seven-year-old Bernhard, German-born sportsman and father of the princess already has been named prince of the Netherlands.

Soon after this morning's ceremony, the retiring queen, the new monarch and Prince Bernhard were expected to appear on the balcony to tell the people of the succession in the house of Orange and Nassau.

CIO of District Plans Outing To Hear Carey

A Labor day rally and picnic for CIO members at Idora park, Youngstown, on Monday will be highlighted by the appearance of James B. Carey, labor leader and secretary-treasurer of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, Washington, D. C., who will make the principal address at 2 p. m.
James P. Griffin, director of District 38 of the United Steelworkers of America, also will speak.
CIO unions from Trumbull, Columbiana, Ashtabula and Mahoning counties are participating in the rally.

In France, Keener Discovers Bottlenecks In Air Travel

PARIS, France, Aug. 24—(Delayed)—It's easy to understand why few Frenchmen bother with civilian flying, observes Sam Keener, Salem, O., industrialist who visited here while on a trans-Atlantic flight in his private plane to look after his European business interests.
"Europeans place so many obstacles in your way with silly flying rules," he reports. "Or they fail to expedite requests for clearances into other countries, or even into airports as the same country."
"They simply do not understand how to handle—or the value of—civilian traffic in an airplane. And whether they'll learn in this generation, I doubt. That should be one of the things that our diplomatic services and the European Recovery Program officials should check into."

"For there aren't too many people in the world anymore who can afford the time to spend weeks over a three or four day job. And unless they remove restrictions on airplane travel for civilian pilots, these countries simply are setting back the whole recovery program by just whatever time is wasted on slower means of transportation."

"I have never seen a worse waste of time than in England and France. For instance, the clearance for us to fly from England to Paris and on into the British zone of Germany was in process for more than a week."

"By going to the American embassy and just pounding on the desks, we finally got the British to clear us to Cologne. I expect to get cleared into Dusseldorf by using a pickaxe."

Paris, London Contrast

Commenting on the contrasts between Paris and London, Keener says:

"The French seem considerably more contented and, I believe, better fed. Eggs and fruit seem to be plentiful. The French consider them very high priced."

"France has improved her condition more rapidly than England. I believe this is due to the fact that so many of the French people live closer to the land. They realize that unless they work, food is going to be scarce."

"Actually, here in Paris they work from 8 in the morning until 6 at night five days a week. They seem an industrious lot, quite happy. Women are smartly dressed."

"The stores display good stocks of most everything and I see little queuing up to get into food stores and onto public transportation vehicles as there was in England."

"Most of the shops seem to specialize in women's wear. Occasionally you will find a few faded shirts and some brightly-colored neckties for men."

"But the men seem to wander around in short pants which come about halfway from the knee to the shoes, with socks turned up over the lower part of the trouser legs. I think, for bicycling."

"There are bicycles everywhere. Almost everyone who has to get about to work and in the course of business rides a bicycle. Stenographers get good exercise heading to the office. . . . And make quite a show on the avenues as they pedal along."

"French motorists (at least in Paris) are something to behold! They are all over the road and when they see something coming, they just honk horns and keep on going."

"Frenchmen do not understand the American cars and you'd think you were on a roller coaster just to take a trip with one up the Champe Elysees."

The Paris telephone service had "I" drove across town to see people. I was trying to reach by telephone. It was much simpler that way. Even

Council Authorizes Sale Of $300,000 Sewer Bonds

Technicalities on Salem's $300,000 city-wide storm sewer project, relative to materials to be used and the finance arrangements, were ironed out by city council at a special meeting Friday night. Work is scheduled to go forward as quickly as possible.

Council passed a resolution instructing the city solicitor to sell the $300,000 in municipal bonds as soon as is possible and also authorizing the city engineer and service director to proceed quickly with letting of contracts for the actual construction work.

One portion of the six-pronged enlargement in the storm sewer system already has been undertaken. But work on the other areas, which include most of the city's major storm sewer systems, is yet to be completed.

Some of the overall project, extending from the city waterworks property near the Pennsylvania railroad tracks in town to the disposal plant northwest of the city, is virtually finished, relieving some of the congestion in that area.

Industrial Area Next
Work will next be undertaken in the industrial area, near the Wilson st. crossing of the railroad, to relieve troubles in that section.

Heavy damage from flash floods has resulted for years through this area and other congested sectors. Voters approved the $300,000 bond issue last fall.

Council discussed last night the type of tile to be used on Wilson st. and decided that it would be best to use vitreous tiling rather than the standard type originally chosen. Council acted on a recommendation from City Engineer P. S. Barkhoff.

Actual issuance and sale of the bonds will not proceed immediately until some legal technicalities are cleared up, but the move toward the actual letting of contracts will go ahead on schedule, pending the sale of the bonds.

Low bidder on the job is the Warren Engineering Co. of Warren, with bids of $36,964 and $50,736.

Council considered no other business at the special session. Its regular meeting is next Tuesday at city hall.

Arrest 11 Belgians Accused of Looting U. S. Cemeteries

BRUSSELS, Sept. 4—A band of grave-robbing "hyenas" who mutilated the bodies of American soldiers to steal gold rings and gold teeth was reported broken up today with the arrest by Belgian police of nine men.

Brussels newspapers described the ghouls as "soulless hyenas," and said that at least 11 other persons are under surveillance in connection with the series of crimes.

Police said six of those arrested were Belgians employed by the U. S. Graves Registration commission to exhume bodies for return to America for final burial. The other three were jewelers in Namur and Dinand who allegedly purchased the gold.

Two of those arrested were said to have had records as Nazi collaborators during the German occupation. They served three years each of 10-year prison sentences for collaboration, police said, and were released last year.

The bodies which were exhumed and robbed were in the American military cemetery of Voves, in the Ardennes, where are buried Americans who died in the "Battle of the Bulge" in 1944.

Authorities said some bodies were mutilated and that others apparently were hacked to pieces and carried away in bags to places where they could be pillaged later.

It was not known how many bodies were involved, or what period the crimes covered.

Stronger Fleet In Mediterranean

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4—A slightly stronger U. S. fleet—including a 45,000-ton aircraft carrier—will replace the 14 American ships now stationed in the Mediterranean.

The Navy announced last night that it is sending a 16-vessel group—stronger than the one now on duty by one heavy cruiser and one destroyer—to take over in that area about Sept. 23. The 1,100 marines stationed with the fleet also will be replaced by "an equivalent number."

The replacement fleet includes the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, with 73 fighter planes and 48 attack bombers, and the following smaller ships:

The heavy cruisers Columbus and Albany, the light cruisers Providence and Little Rock, the destroyers Compton, Gairdard, H. R. Dickson, Hugh Purvis, Hyman, Beatty, G. K. Mackenzie, E. G. Small, Power and Glennon and the Cargo ship Montague.

TRAFFIC FLOW BRINGS PLEA FOR SAFETY

The Labor day weekend will provide the swan song for the wearing of white shoes and straw hats and will also give Salemites a last fling at the surrounding amusement parks and pleasure resorts.

The season's close will be observed at the Salem Country club, Seveken lake, Firestone park, and other neighboring lakes Monday.

A full sports program, ranging from the National Air Races to family reunion softball games awaits Labor day vacationists.

A baseball game and contests will be included in the Monday afternoon program at Seveken lake. A coverdish dinner at 6:30 p. m. will be followed by a dance at 9.

The Country club will stage its usual Labor day program, including a trapshoot Sunday afternoon. The Salem Golf club fall dance is to be held this evening and a heavy card of golf is anticipated for the weekend. A flag tournament will feature the play.

Labor day also will bring about the windup of family reunions, held throughout the district.

Firestone park at Columbiana will close its pool following Monday's heavy attendance, based on favorable weather.

Traffic Heavy
Heavy automobile traffic is expected to flow through Salem today and Monday. Indications of a record flow were confirmed by the crowded condition of E. State st. both Friday night and today.

The Salem state highway patrol will have its full force on duty to attempt to cut down the fatalities and injuries usually occurring over holidays. "Drive carefully," is the patrol's plea.

All local police will be on duty Monday, although the downtown traffic problem is not expected to be too much of a problem.

Parking on E. State st. between Lincoln and Ellsworth will be prohibited from noon on Monday, Chief Nerr Gaunt announced.

The method, successfully used on Memorial day and the Fourth of July, will enable cars to move through Salem more abreast. The system drew many favorable comments from motorists, who have often been "bottlenecked" in Salem in the past.

Predict Heavy Toll
A near record volume of holiday travel was expected in major cities of the nation for the weekend, according to Associated Press reports.

General good weather forecasts tended to boost estimated on motor traffic.

The only ominous note was sounded by the National Safety council which predicted a traffic death toll of 290 persons.

This is ten more than the toll reported for Labor day last year.

In New York, rail, bus, and air lines prepared for heavy traffic volume. Bus lines expected more passengers than last year and extra heavy auto travel was forecast.

Washington transportation officials were adding extra trains, planes and buses to take care of an estimated 500,000 leaving the city on 100,000 visitors. All Washington travel records are expected to be broken.

Philadelphia predicts that 500,000 will leave the city for southern New Jersey and the Pennsylvania mountain resorts. The Pennsylvania railroad plans to put on 67 extra trains between Philadelphia, New York and Washington.

Cleveland air, rail and motor forecasts unite in predicting the heaviest passenger travel in the city's history.

SNEAK THIEF GETS MONEY FROM HOME

A sneak thief entered the home of Arthur Hornung of 1448 Cleveland st. sometime prior to 7 p. m. Friday and stole $22.50 in cash from two upstairs rooms, police reported today.

The theft was discovered Friday evening. A $20 bill and $2.50 in old coins were taken. Hornung said the house doors were unlocked.

Orien Naragon of 833 Woodland ave. told police someone broke the front window of his house in attempting to pry it open between 10:15 a. m. and 12:15 p. m. Thursday. The house was not entered, however.

Memoirs of a Queen

If it may be assumed—and it may—that publishers' agents will pester Queen Wilhelmina for her memoirs, and if it may be assumed further—which is doubtful—that she writes them, a typical day might be described as follows:

"Up early, to ponder affairs of state over coffee and toast. Still pondering when Juliana wanted to go for bicycle ride with her, but am getting too heavy for cycling. Had a bad lunch and was in peevish humor for consultation with prime minister, who can be a dreadful bore sometimes. Everything seems to be peaceful on the Zee. Napped before dinner and spent evening playing solitaire—couldn't win. To bed early to read reports from the colonies. Fell asleep shortly after. Being a queen is all right as far as it goes but sometimes I wonder."

With apologies to her highness, Queen Wilhelmina, a lot of Americans have wondered too, especially when looking at pictures of her patient face. She has earned her retirement. The queen has stepped down. Juliana has stepped up. Long live both of them!

Musical Chairs In France

With the choice of Robert Schuman to form a new cabinet, the French political crisis is only slightly alleviated. In desperately casting about for a premier, the assembly has returned to the man who held the post just over a month ago.

In his acceptance speech, Schuman asked a question any of his many predecessors might have asked: "What authority can a government have if confidence is given it in general and then withdrawn on each detail and each problem?"

The assembly is plagued with weaknesses it has had since before World War I. It is made up of splinter parties that support coalition governments only as long as the parties' own ends are served. Between 1918 and 1939, coalition governments were unable to make France internally strong. Since the end of World War II, 10 more cabinets have fallen because they lacked support when any decisive step was proposed to check inflation or stabilize the economy.

The villains in the current setup are the socialists bidding for popular support with promises they cannot honor. Given a chance to form a cabinet themselves, they refused.

Conditions in France are shaping up for a swing to the extreme right or left. The game of musical chairs, with the same old faces in new places, is solving nothing. With a general election scheduled next June, France is likely to undergo some major surgery to take the kinks out of its political anatomy.

Chickens Home To Roost

It's easy to understand why the Truman administration, which hopes to fan the new deal's dying embers back into a political flame, hates the idea of the Communist chickens coming home to roost during the campaign.

It's even easier to understand why the Communists and their stooges hate to have investigators sniffing at their devious trail in and out of the federal government before and during World War II. A lot of loopholes will be plugged in the future.

The only thing hard to understand is why anyone who isn't an apologist for the new deal, for the Truman administration, or for the assorted traitors who wandered through the government like guests of the state during the new deal should have any misgivings about examining the record.

Certainly there is a political motive behind it. The record won't bear inspection, but the new dealers should have thought of that when they were making it. Certainly it's going to hurt politicians shrieking that the political opposition should find something else to look at. They realize their political lives are at stake.

That's the idea exactly—to balance the scales of political justice. There were dreary years in this country when everybody was said to be wrong except the administration in power. The years lasted from March 1933 to the present moment. The fact is that the administration in power was not and is not infallible; that its record eventually must be brought into the open—all the records, including the curious circumstances that made it possible for Americans to be victimized by revolutionary conspirators in public office.

Jumping The Gun

Here it is early September and already they are playing football. It wasn't so many years ago that the season wasn't considered officially opened until the first Saturday in October when Yale whipped the whey out of Little Alfred. Many an eyebrow was raised when Dartmouth jumped the gun by taking on Bates the last Saturday in September.

Nowadays pro football players are in training by mid-July. Exhibition games are played by Aug. 20 and the season is in full swing by Sept. 15. By baseball World Series time, football teams are locked in mortal combat with "traditional rivals."

Probably nothing can or will be done about it; and it still isn't as long as the hockey season, which now overlaps on football with a complicated series of play-offs carrying the schedule well into April.

The Stars Say

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, September 5

SUNDAY'S horoscope emphasizes the desirability of concentrating the interest on the conventional avocations of the day: cultural, creative, mystical and idealistic—since the prospects of success or security in any mundane and practical vocations or projects might prove distressing and even sinister.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a year of strange, curious and unconventional experiences, in which the subtle, intriguing, hidden and mysterious complicate the affairs. Duplicitous, treachery, double-dealing of varied aspects, could have serious reactions on the fortunes.

A child born on this day may have mental and emotional drives, inciting to peculiar and unaccountable actions, with final resort to intrigue and strange entanglements. Early training is advised.

For Monday, September 6

Monday's astrological forecast is for a more than usually ambitious and constructive state of affairs, with the energies and initiative keyed to high purpose and aspirations. This tension may be due to novel, and strange ideas, with the strong emotional urge to put them over with strenuous and aggressive tactics. The danger is from over-doing in such efforts and indomitable determination to win against all odds and opposition.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may anticipate a year of particularly lively and energetic ventures, in which there is determination to put over an original idea or more than customary project. Funds are involved, and might advance progressive plans, but in certain places there might be antagonisms or lukewarm interest to batter down. Persistent effort and sound purpose might ultimately impress.

A child born on this day, could possess unusual talents, with ingenuity, and fresh slants, urged to action by determination, industry and perhaps finesse, winning by appeal to sentiment in opposition.

For Tuesday, September 7

THE aspect of opportunity and productivity, indicated by a benefic aspect between the luminaries, accelerates the energies and ambitions, pointing them into channels of accomplishment and prosperity. Under such rule there is probability of rapid rise or promotion, due to the friendly interest and personal assistance of those in influential positions. Under such cooperation it is the time to make important deals, to change positions, renew contracts or to travel. With this upward sweep in business, personal objectives flourish also.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to make changes, put over new deals or objectives, to travel or change, as desired, or make more lucrative arrangements on present positions. The friendly support and interest of influential personages should be sought, especially for rapid promotion, and financial increase. Social aims are enhanced, possibly by home entertainment, or other courtesy of mutual benefit. But finesse and tact should be used, not force or audacity.

A child born on this day has promise of a progressive and influential career, well endowed, and benefited also by personal or social prestige.

If you are hard of hearing and contemplate the use of a hearing aid, be sure to secure the advice of a qualified physician or ear specialist before purchasing a hearing aid. It is likely that the doctor may find that normal hearing can be restored by the removal of impacted wax from the ear canal, or determine the nature of your hearing loss and advise as to whether or not a hearing aid will be of benefit.

There are two types of hearing aid receivers: Air conduction and bone conduction. Variations in tone and amplification can be obtained by adjustment of individual controls. Certain bone receivers tend to bring out the lower tones and mask the higher ones so that the voice sounds louder and deeper. This will make the consonants less clear.

A hearing aid may cause a squeal noise when it is turned on to its fullest extent, unless the ear-piece provides an airtight seal. For this reason, the best results with hearing aids—especially in difficult cases—seem to be secured when a molded plastic ear-piece is obtained.

Speech, which is the type of sound the deaf mostly need to hear, is made up of a complex pattern of sound waves. The loudness of speech is measured in what are known as decibels. The average speech varies in loudness between 30 and 60 decibels, but this is not constant because the vowel sounds are, in general, lower than those made by the consonants.

Magnify Sounds
It is the function of a hearing aid to magnify these sounds just as glasses magnify print. However, in some cases, due to the intricate nature of speech, the increase in volume may result in a distortion of the sound which makes it difficult to understand. Most good hearing aids, however, will cause no such difficulty until the loudness reaches 120 decibels.

The ability to hear sound depends upon a number of factors in the deafened person, such as the amount of loss in each of the speech types. For example, some people may be unable to hear high tones, while others may not hear low tones. A second factor of importance is the amount of damage to the nerve of hearing. These things must be taken into consideration when determining whether or not a hearing aid would be of any value.

Other factors of importance are the age of the patient, the duration of the condition, whether the patient can read lips satisfactorily, and the type of work that he does.

Speech Loudness

As I have mentioned above, the average speech loudness is between 30 and 60 decibels. Those persons with a hearing loss of less than 30 decibels usually have little trouble with ordinary day-to-day conversation, but they may have some trouble at a lecture or at the theater. Those with losses between 30 and 40 decibels miss the quieter speech sound and often complain that people are mumbling. These persons find hearing aids of definite usefulness, particularly when a number of people engage in conversation.

Those who have a loss between 40 and 50 decibels cannot follow the conversational voice and need hearing aids for daily use.

Be sure to consult your physician and follow his advice and guidance.

Leetonia Boosters Complete Street Sign Installation

LEETONIA, Sept. 4—The "new look" in Leetonia is causing much comment and it's all favorable, too.

Almost all of the new street signs have been placed in one of the year's most important projects of the Community Booster club.

As soon as Oak st. is paved, markers on that street will be installed, bringing to 50 the number of signs placed this year.

The attractive aluminum signs are beveled with the wide edge at the top and narrow edge at the bottom. They are clearly visible at night as the letters on markers are covered with a scotch-light substance. The beveling feature also aids drivers at night.

Street names are in black letters on white signs, colors rated most easily seen, by safety authorities.

Costs of the signs were assumed jointly by the Community Boosters club and the village. Marcus Holt was president of the club during the planning stage of the project.

Old poles that were already village property were repaired and repainted by the Leetonia Tool Co. Then club members and other residents of Leetonia did the actual work of placing the poles in a concrete base, according to Jack Ripley, who headed the committee for the project.

Sportsmen Meet

A special meeting of the Leetonia Sportsmen's club was held Thursday evening at which a technical movie of the processing of steel, from primary ore to girders and rails was shown.

Harry Ginther, club secretary, made arrangements for the program.

Tony and Jim Cimminelli served as chefs for the evening and prepared a delicious spaghetti dinner, according to the comments of the 45 club members present.

During a short business session announcement was made that the club will have a trashshoot Sunday on the Cherry Valley club grounds.

Plan Activities

The Leetonia McGuire club and its sister organization of 4-H Girls, met at the Bertelsen company offices Thursday night to plan for winter activities.

The club, formed this year, will concentrate on preparing racers

Win Healthiest Ohio Boy and Girl Titles

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4—Fifteen-year-old Rita Louise Hewitt of Defiance, and 16-year-old Milo M. Billman of Wadsworth, carried off today the titles of Ohio's healthiest girl and healthiest boy.

The decision was made after week-long competition between 110 county and sectional winners at the Ohio state fair. Miss Hewitt has been in 4-H club work six years and Billman has been in the work seven years.

The two winners will compete in a similar contest at the National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago in November.

LOST in loneliness, and feeling very strange, Hilary pushed open the swing door and went out onto the step. From the doorway he glanced back idly. The commissionaire was gazing at the door, which still swung slightly from Hilary's passing. The hall was empty. No one had gone in or out. The commissionaire was seeing things.

Hilary watched him, grinning, from the step. The situation suddenly began to have possibilities. One could amuse oneself, after all, why not endow the club with a mystery? What if word went round tomorrow that Hilary Shenstone had occupied his old room the night after he was reported dead out in India—slept in his bed, ran his bath water—left no luggage. It would make history.

The idea of spending the night in his usual bedroom in the club appealed to him. At least it would be

1947 Idle Pay Benefits Decline

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4.—Last year saw a $66,628,892 decrease in unemployment benefits paid out by Ohio. Frank J. Collopy, unemployment compensation administrator, said yesterday the 40 per cent decrease—from $113,128,892 in 1946, to $46,500,000 in 1947—could be credited mainly to few GI, 52-week unemployment compensation claims.

He said in 1946, when most veterans were still shopping for post-war jobs, Ohio paid its ex-service-men $61,000,000.

The bulk of the ex-GI job hunters had settled down by last year, Collopy said, and veterans' claims dropped to $27,300,000.

Two of Ohio's 88 counties—Cuyahoga and Hamilton—struck $5,000,000 in unemployment compensation figures. Both counties' claims came to less than their 1946 figures.

One county, Paulding, had an increase over its 1946 figure. Collopy did not explain why.

Almost half of the state-wide total went to the state's eight major industrial centers—but, Collopy said, the total for those counties was still "well below that for 1946."

The eight were: Cuyahoga, $7,078,000; Hamilton, $5,158,000; Montgomery (Dayton), $1,276,000; Franklin (Columbus), $2,125,000; Lucas (Toledo), $2,270,000; Summit (Akron), $2,449,000; Stark (Canton), $1,698,000, and Mahoning (Youngstown), $1,106,000.

Herkimer Manuscripts
Shed Light On History

ALBANY, N. Y.—A collection of unique manuscripts acquired by the New York State Library has thrown new light on Gen. Nicholas Herkimer's Mohawk Valley campaign during the Revolutionary War.

The documents include a list of soldiers wounded at Oriskany, artists' impressions of the conflict and excerpts of battle accounts of some of the Herkimer family who served under the general.

Famed for his successful defense of the Mohawk Valley, Herkimer made his triumphant stand in an effort to relieve a small garrison threatened by the invading British. Although overwhelmed by superior forces, he prevented the British from joining Burgoyne in the Hudson Valley.

Burgoyne thus grew progressively weaker and was finally defeated at Saratoga in one of the war's turning points. Oriskany was a significant engagement leading to Burgoyne's downfall.

PROBE YOUNGSTOWN STRONGARM MURDER

YOUNGSTOWN, Sept. 4.—Youngstown police pressed an investigation today into a series of strongarm robberies which were culminated by the fatal stabbing of John McLaughlin, 48.

McLaughlin died in Youngstown hospital Wednesday night after he told police that three men had dragged him into an alley and had beaten and robbed him.

McLaughlin was first picked up by police who said they saw him reeling and thought he was intoxicated. He was put in the bullpen at city jail.

When fellow prisoners noticed blood on his shirt they called police, who immediately took him to the hospital.

Whose ABC's Did You Learn?

If we had learned that "A" stood for assets instead of for apples when we studied our ABC's, the problem of understanding how business operates today would be much easier. If we understood business operations a little better, we would all have a clearer picture of what the American way of life means to us.

Unfortunately the nature of business is such that it uses words that are strange and easily misunderstood. Yet all the while business is, describing operations that are very much like managing a home and a family.

At Mullins, for example, when we speak of "family" we are referring to nearly 4,000 employees and almost the same number of stockholders. To us "groceries" are big bundles of sheet steel, barrels of paint, tons of raw materials. When we say "home" we mean our factories which have to be constantly improved, just like anyone else's home.

A man and wife describe the status of their family with words like "a new sofa" or "the insurance policy" or "beefsteak for dinner." Business is talking about practically the same thing when it says "profits" or "research expense" or "modernized facilities."

Business has a responsibility to explain its activities more clearly so that the American way of living is better understood. Then we would have no difficulty proving to ourselves that the only method of living and doing business that can continue to give us more goods and more happiness for less work is the American way.

Ann Cristo Is Wed To Richard Slosser

Miss Ann Cristo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cristo of Liberty st., and Richard Slosser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Slosser of Washington ave., were married at 10:30 a. m. Friday in Lisbon. Rev. C. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, performed the ceremony.

Attired in a green suit with brown accessories, the bride wore a corsage of white roses. Miss Barbara Sweeney and Robert Kegg of Salem were the attendants. The maid of honor used brown accessories with a yellow dress. Her corsage was of Tallisman roses.

The wedding dinner was served last night at the bride's home.

Methodist Choir Party Enjoyed

Rev. George C. Beebe was a guest when the Methodist church senior choir held a party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rhodes, Sr., Goshen Center rd., including the families of the members.

A wiener roast afforded pleasure and there was singing around the campfire.

Mrs. Ralph McGhee and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Rhodes, Jr., were hosts.

Swim Party Held

Sophomore girls of the Methodist church, taught by Miss Phyllis Welsh, enjoyed a swimming party Thursday evening at the East Palestine park. A picnic lunch was featured. Miss Alice Whinnery was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace K. Schwartz and children, Sandra Lynn and Joseph, and Dr. and Mrs. Richard McConner and son, James, have returned from a vacation trip to East Hampton, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and daughter, Sandra Sue, of Girard, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rich, Jr., of Columbiana, will be Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rich, Sr., of E. School st.

Misses Katherine and Eleanor Pepperney of W. Wilson st. are visiting relatives in Pittsburgh for the weekend.

Dickey-McCamon Vows Are Heard

Guests from Salem attended the wedding of Miss Dorothy Elaine Dickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dickey of Elkton, and Myron E. McCammon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McCammon of R. D. 2, Columbiana, which was solemnized at 8:30 p. m. last Saturday.

Rev. Mr. Charles E. Richardson, pastor of the Elkton Methodist church, officiated in the double ring ceremony which was solemnized before the bay window of the large living room. Palms, ferns and white gladioli lighted by tall white tapers in candelabra made the setting.

Nuptial music preceded the ceremony and the bride descended the stairway to the strains of a wedding march. Gold ribbons marked an aisle to the simulated altar where she was given in marriage by her father. The bride was lovely in a costume of cocoa-glaze crepe trimmed in gold, and she wore a half-hat in matching brown satin. Her accessories were of brown and gold and her arm bouquet was of gold carnations and roses. She wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried a hand-made handkerchief, gift of a friend.

Mrs. Warren Nold of Lisbon, her only attendant, wore a crepe gown of aqua with harmonizing accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Wayne McCammon served his brother as best man, and Earl and Allen Dickey, brothers of the bride, ushered. More than a hundred relatives and friends attended.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. Refreshments were served with Mrs. Wilbur Cook and Miss Lenore McCammon pouring. A three-tiered wedding cake graced the center of the bridal table.

Mrs. Dickey, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue and pink print dress with harmonizing accessories, and Mrs. McCammon, mother of the groom, wore navy blue and white print dress. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The bride is a graduate of Lisbon High school and the Salem City Hospital school of nursing of the class of 1948. Mr. McCammon attended the Fairfield Centralized High school and is associated with his father in dairy farming.

After a week's honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. McCammon will be at home in their newly-furnished home in Columbiana.

For traveling Mrs. McCammon chose a suit of aqua with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

LISBON, Sept. 4.—Thirty-two teachers and six special instructors have been hired for Lisbon's three public schools for 1948-49 term which opens Tuesday, Supt. H. C. Leonard announced.

Fifteen teachers will be at David Anderson High school under the new principal, George Nece Jr. He assures the principalship following the resignation of Miss Sadie Van Poyssan, who has served since 1917.

The McKinley Grade school will have eight teachers including the principal, Miss Della Wetzel. Nine teachers have been placed at the Lincoln building, where Mrs. Victoria Hunt has been named principal.

Dr. John Cameron, a retired minister, will serve as attendance officer again this year.

Supt. Leonard anticipates an enrollment of 1,020 students in the three schools and kindergarten.

Goshen High Class Of '47 Has Outing

A scavenger hunt and wiener roast highlighted the evening when members of the 1947 class of Goshen Township High school held a reunion Wednesday at the home of Eleanor Schell, Ellsworth rd.

Floyd Stanley, president, was in charge of the business session.

Plans were made to hold next year's reunion on the first Sunday in August at Mill Creek park, in Youngstown.

W. R. C. Honors Three On Birthdays

The birthday anniversaries of three members, Mrs. Eva Asty, Mrs. Bertha Rinehart and Mrs. L. F. Maffett, were celebrated at a dinner meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps Friday in the Memorial building.

At a business session plans were made for a benefit card party Friday afternoon, Sept. 17, in the Memorial building.

Dorothy Ann Reese Youngstown Bride

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Ann Reese and Hugh S. Buckner was solemnized Sunday, Aug. 22, in Faith Lutheran church, Youngstown, with Rev. A. W. Glessner officiating in the double ring ceremony.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Reese of Columbus, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Miss Reese was attired in a gray summer suit with navy and white accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Reese wore aqua linen and her corsage was also of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a buffet-style dinner was served members of both families at the home of the bride's parents, and then the couple left on a wedding trip.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris T. Reese of Youngstown, who were residents of Washingtonville, until a few years ago. She attended Washingtonville high school, graduated from Leetonia high school and received a B. S. in education degree from Kent State university. She is employed as secretary in the offices of U. S. Steel Products Co.

Mr. Buckner, son of Mrs. Ora Murphy, Youngstown, is a graduate of North High school and served with the Navy in the Pacific area. He is employed by the New York Central Railroad.

After returning from their trip, the couple will reside at 1970 McClure ave., Youngstown.

Announce Betrothal Of Joyce Malloy

Fire Chief and Mrs. Vincent L. Malloy of Columbia st. announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce, to Walter E. Dennis, son of W. M. Dennis of Beloit.

The couple have planned their wedding for Saturday, Oct. 16, in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Miss Malloy, a graduate of Salem High school, is employed by the Paxson Machine Co. Her fiancé graduated from Wellsville High school and is an employee of the Salem Engineering Co.

Mrs. Ruff Hostess To Club Members

Mrs. Russell Ruff was hostess to members of the Jolly Bingo club Thursday evening at her home, S. Lincoln ave.

Prize winners were Mrs. Lucy Del Vichio, Mrs. Harvey Breitenstein, Mrs. Clyde Brown and Mrs. Noah Crawford. Lunch was served.

The Oct. 16 meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Brown, W. Wilson st.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hall of Bank st. have returned from a 7,000-mile motor trip through the west. In Houston, Tex., they visited Mrs. Hall's brother, Lawrence Curry and family.

COLUMBIANA MEN SIGN UP

Draft Registration To Continue Nightly Until September 18

COLUMBIANA, Sept. 4.—Commander Herbert Souder of Firestone Legion post has received instruction from the Columbiana county draft board to continue here registration of draft-age young men through Saturday, Sept. 18. Registrars will be at city hall every evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The local registration board was instructed that future registrations would be taken care of at Lisbon after the one-day registration here this week, but the plan has been changed. The area for registration here embraces Columbiana, Middleton, East Fairfield, Rogers and Negley.

Thomas Gushert, Sr., of Firestone ave., is a patient in Johns-Hopkins hospital, Baltimore.

The East Side Civics of Columbiana will be the opponents of the Columbiana Youngs in the game at Firestone park Labor day afternoon.

The September meeting of the Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. will be held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon instead of Friday.

Licenses on Sale Tuesday
Drivers licenses will be on sale Tuesday by J. K. Harding at his office on the public square.

Donald Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Long, S. Main st., is home from Camp Stoneman, Calif., where he received his discharge from the Army after having served nearly two years, 18 months at Seoul, Korea.

William Poulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Poulton of Columbiana, is one of 12 members of Wooster college football squad this year, who won numerals as freshmen last season.

An indoor camp meeting will open in Columbiana Church of the Nazarene next Wednesday evening and continue through Sunday, Sept. 19. Rev. Donald Isenberg of Mechanicsburg, Pa., evangelist and artist, will be the preacher at services every evening at 7:45 except Saturday.

Announcement is made of the coming marriage of Miss Maxine Elizabeth Ward of Washington, D. C., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward, Fairfield ave., to Fidele Martino of Alexandria, Va. The marriage will take place next Saturday afternoon at 2 in St. Mary's church, Alexandria, with a reception following in George Mason hotel.

Miss Ward, a graduate of Columbiana High school, was employed in Washington during the war, and had since been in the office of the Columbiana Foundry Co. Returning to Washington, she has been employed in the office of a Washington attorney since the first of the year. Mr. Martino is employed in the Library of Congress.

Commissioners Set Hearing
Columbiana county commissioners have set Monday, Sept. 20, at 10:30 a. m. as the time for a hearing on a petition to vacate streets in Elm Grove addition to Columbiana, in which a number of lots were sold recently at delinquent tax sales. The commissioners will view the streets sought to be vacated Monday, Sept. 13, at 10:30 a. m., and the hearing a week later will be in their office in the courthouse at Lisbon.

A Pittsburgh real estate concern laid out the allotment more than 20 years ago, but it was never taken into the corporation.

Stores Sales Decreased 10 Per Cent Last Week

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported today that the volume of department store trade in the Fourth district last week was 10 per cent less than the total for the same week in 1947.

The bank report blamed high temperatures that prevailed throughout the week for most of the adverse differential. The widest contraction in the district occurred in Cleveland and Toledo, where dollar volume was 16 and 17 per cent below a year ago, respectively.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The Volunteer Firemen will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

The siren will sound on all meeting nights which are the first and third Monday of each month, unless on a holiday.

School will start Tuesday at 8.15 a. m.

PROPER LUBRICATION

IS THE ONLY CURE!

MOST CARS WEAR OUT because they lose their fight against friction. The only cure we know is regular, factory recommended lubrication, starting with the right grade of oil for the engine, special greases for the differential, universal joint, transmission and wheel bearings. Our specialized lubrication costs no more than an ordinary grease job done elsewhere.

Leetonia St. Paul's Opens 75th Anniversary Services

LEETONIA, Sept. 4.—St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church will celebrate its 75th anniversary during the month of September.

The first of the services will be in charge of the Sunday school and will be held tomorrow at 9:30 a. m., at which time Rev. Louis J. Raymond, pastor of the North Jackson Federated church, will be guest speaker.

St. Paul's Lutheran church today is the result of two mergers. In 1925, the majority of the members of the Burger Lutheran church which had disbanded, came into the membership of St. Paul's. Two years later, the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church of Leetonia proposed a merger with St. Paul's. Terms agreeable to both congregations were worked out and the union was consummated so that today St. Paul's is really "Three in One."

According to available information, the history of the Burger church goes back to 1811. Lutheran families from Maryland and Pennsylvania settled in Salem township and worshipped together. First in a log building near the present site of St. Jacob's Reformed church when

U. S. Flying Farmers Told of Plane Benefits

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4—America's Flying Farmers were told today that the use of the airplane in farming offered more chances for profit than any other activity.

D. W. Rentzel, administrator of civil aeronautics, cited the rapid growth of the airplane as a farm implement in spraying, dusting, seeding, cotton defoliation, pipe and power line patrol, and cattle checking, and said in a speech to the Flying Farmers' third annual convention:

"Today the planes engaged in these activities are standard craft converted for special uses . . . it is inevitable that soon we will have airplanes designed and constructed especially for such agricultural uses."

"Even now, some operators are planning use of aircraft as big as DC-3's (twin-engine transport) for weed control over vast areas of the northwest . . . For many uses in spraying and dusting, the helicopter is particularly suited and it is being given new jobs right along."

Quaker Gridders Get Stiff Workout Against Massillon

Browns Look Good In League Opener

BY FRITZ HOWELL
CLEVELAND, Sept. 4—Cleveland's Browns were off and running today toward their third consecutive All America conference football title.

Sweeping aside the Los Angeles Dons—their most tenacious foes the last two years—by a 19-14 count last night before 60,193 fans, the Browns launched their 1948 campaign.

The game wasn't as close as the score indicates, for the washbuckling Dons who have defeated the Browns twice in the last two campaigns didn't score until the last 33 seconds—and then they scored twice.

The Browns, as usual, had an unusual angle to present. They scored in every way points can be piled up in football, utilizing the touchdown, safety, point after touchdown and field goal.

Lou (Golden Toe) Groza, the big booter from Martins Ferry, contributed the opening points on a 51-yard field goal from placement, a prodigious effort which tied his distance record in the first four minutes of the contest.

A newcomer to the Brown roster, Art Farnsworth of Miami's mighty Redskins of 1947, came up with the first touchdown as he took a 17-yard pass from Automatic Otto Graham in the second session. Glenn Dobbs, fine passer for the Dons, gave the Browns two points in the third period when he stepped over the end zone line for a safety. He was attempting to pass Los Angeles out of trouble after Horace Gillom had pinned the visitors on the one-yard line with a precision punt from 34 yards out.

Graham, who completed 15 of 24 passes for 134 yards, then took over. He smacked three straight passes to Gillom and Mac Speedie, good for 35 yards, and then sent Bill Boedeker over the top for the six-yard touchdown which eventually won the tilt. Groza booted both extra points.

With the game in its final minute Dobbs hit Kimbrough with a 40-yard aerial, followed with a nine-yard toss to Dale Gentry, and then Kimbrough went nine yards in three tries at the line for the first Don touchdown.

With less than a half-minute to play, the Dons tried an on-side kickoff and got away with it. End Joe Aguirre recovering the ball, Dobbs hit Aguirre with two straight passes, good for 37 and nine yards, the second for a touchdown, to get the Los Angeles club to 14 points.

Stevens-Till Battle Tops Fight Card

Tribe Splits With St. Louis Browns

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Sept. 4—A split double header pushed the faltering Cleveland Indians deeper into third place today in the torrid American league race.

The Tribe, seeking desperately to regain their No. 1 position, won a 7 to 6 victory over the St. Louis Browns in the opening game last night, but dropped the second by a 4 to 3 count.

With the New York Yankees winning a double header, the Indians' performance dropped them to two games behind first-place Boston. The Yankees are a half game out of first.

Bob Lemon hurled brilliantly for Cleveland in the first game, allowing only six hits and running his string of scoreless innings to 28. The victory also boosted him to within one triumph of becoming the first 20-game winner in the major's this season.

Lemon has pitched shutouts in four of his last five starts and has not permitted a run in 45 of his last 46 innings.

The Tribe got behind him to drive out 13 hits off Bill Kennedy and Frank Biscan, including home runs by Lou Boudreau, Eddie Robinson and Ken Keltner and a double by Ray Boone. It marked Boone's first time in a major league lineup.

The nightcap saw the visitors blanked for six innings by Joe Os-rowski, who allowed only three bunts during that time. The Browns got nine hits, driving Sam Zoldak from the mound in the third inning after scoring three runs. Steve Gro-mek, Don Black and Ed Klie-man followed him to the mound.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting, Joe DiMaggio, Yankees—Clouted three homers and drove in seven runs in pacing New York to double victory over Washington. Pitching, Bob Lemon, Indians—Became first major league pitcher to win 19 games this season when he pitched Cleveland to a 7-6 six hit triumph over St. Louis in first half of twilight-night twin bill. The shutout was Lemon's 10th.

Ohio State Bucks Hold Full Scrimmage Friday

COLUMBUS, Sept. 4—Coach Wesley Fesler of Ohio State took the leash off his Bucks for a short 20-minute of full scrimmage yesterday and the boys went at it as if drilling for a major game.

Fistic Show Thrills 800 At Salem A. C. Park Friday

The battling boys from Cleveland and Midland, Pa., had a slugfest at the Salem A. C. park Friday night and they turned in a good, interesting and exciting show but Claude Till of the Woods A. C. and Pete Stevens of the Avon A. C. stole the evening's honors with a battle that had the crowd of about 800 on its feet through the three final gruelling rounds.

Stevens, who supposedly is turning pro soon, found a good 170-pounds of equality in Till, a slugging Negro who gave the winning Stevens all he could handle during the two last rounds of the five canto affair.

It was a climactic battle on an excellent card and Stevens' victory met with the almost unanimous dis-favor of the spectators, obviously pulling to the end for Till.

The well-built Till, who took a lot from Stevens only to come back terrifically, lost the first three rounds to Stevens as he experienced and felt the soon-to-be-pro out. But when he learned what he wanted to know and made use of it he had Stevens cowering and on the canvas a couple of times in the last two.

Stevens actually went to the floor twice, more from poor footing than from straight solid blows, but was under the weather a good portion of the time as Till roared rights and lefts at him. Both men were tossing for keeps, using every punch as the theoretical last. None hit the mark for the kayo that appeared almost several times.

Till missed his chance of a life-time midway in the fourth when he wasn't quite set to let Stevens have it when the big boy was weaving and obviously hurt. Till didn't come out unscathed, however, suffering a bad cut over his left eye in the fourth.

The strapping Stevens moves with a determined shuffle and is as strong as a bull, especially during the in-fighting. Till, also powerful, tossed a million blockbusters and a few landed well. Till's odd approach resembles a well-trained pony and his advances, except in the wild fighting, are well measured and usually carefully throws.

Although the other four preliminary bouts were good, the finale caught the crowd's fancy and kept them in a fever most of the five rounds. The bout was a corker and formed well in the running depart-ment, with Slager doing some fine passing to End Tom Watson during the session. Tackle Bill Trautwein, high on the list for a regular assignment, was kicking off down to the opposing goal line without putting too much toe behind the ball.

Jaycees Authorize Two Service Club Teams

Censorship of two bowling teams in the Service Club league, as well as a team in the newly-organized Salem Cribbage league, was noted by directors of Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce, who met at the home of Robert Whitehill, Thursday night.

Lewis Briskin has been named to handle the organization of the crib-bage team. Personnel of the bowling teams will be determined at the general meeting of the Jaycee group Thursday night.

Roy Yeager, president, presided over the directors' session.

South African Bobby Locke recently finished 16 strokes ahead of his nearest competitor in the Chicago Victory golf Open. He scored a 266 for the 72 holes.

Barrett Pleased, Says He Is Sure He Will Have 11 Good Men for Coming Year

"We're going to have 11 mighty good football players on the field this fall and yesterday's workout showed me a whole lot about just who they are going to be," Coach Ben Barrett said today after watching his Quaker grid candidates work more than three and a half hours against the Massillon Tigers at their training camp at Beach City Friday afternoon.

Barrett's over-all reaction to the grueling workout his outfit got yesterday couldn't be termed unenthusiastic, for the Quaker gridders rebounded from a somewhat disappointing showing in the hour and a half morning scrimmage to an exhibition far more equal to Massillon's in the afternoon trial.

The Salem team left early Friday and arrived at the Tiger training camp about 10 a. m., starting their scrimmage session at about 10:45 and going well past the 12:30 meal call.

After a hefty dinner at the camp with the Tiger gridders, the two teams returned to the practice field at about 2:45 and went at it hammer and tong until almost five o'clock. Salem's end of the battle duty was a bit heavier, for Barrett took only 28 players to Massillon's 60 at the camp. Virtually every man saw a good half hour of action and some went the whole stretch.

Barrett was obviously somewhat let-down by the showing in the morning. His charges seemed a bit awed over the Massillon name and showed it in their blocking and tackling. The offense just didn't hit against Massillon in the A.M., and the defense was nothing to write home about.

After the "feeler" in the morning, however, the Quakers came back for more and showed the life that has brought Barrett's team great success in past seasons.

Passes clicked like clock-work in the afternoon, Tommy Miner and George Reash hurling the pigskin. The running attack also was impressive, although it would have functioned better with Walt Ehrhart and Ray Yeager in the lineup.

Ehrhart was in hand and played a little, but he was sidelined most of the day with a bad knee and ankle. Yeager wasn't on the trip, being out with an injured shoulder. Both are expected to be in shape early next week, however.

Barrett's problem on the line is diminishing as the scrimmages reveal just what his hopefuls can and will do. He is tinkering with moves from position to position and is finding the process beneficial.

He says he feels sure he will have a good strong line ready for the pre-view next week, if the switches keep paying off. Several of the linemen he had counted on to fill bills are not living up to pre-practice hopes, but he is bringing up Freshmen and Sophomores and working them in well.

Barrett's charges were entertained royally by the Massillon mentor.

LEETONIA SPANKS VETERANS, 3 TO 1

The Leetonia American Legion collected three runs on seven hits and two errors to defeat the V.F.W., 3-1, Friday evening at the Salem A. C. park.

The V.F.W. managed only one run on three hits and three errors in losing a game that was called at the end of seven and a half nines due to darkness.

Hogan, Not Satisfied, Leads Reno Open Golf

RENO, Nev., Sept. 4—Ben Hogan, probably the best golfer in the world off his present record, led the $25,000 Reno open today as it went into the second round.

Holder of the U. S. and Western Open titles, plus the P.G.A. championship, Hogan teed off with 67 shots behind him and three rounds to go, ending next Monday.

IN FRANCE

when efficient friends helped me, the service was far short of what Carl Willman's Bell Telephone system offers back home in Salem.
 "The passing of time seems to mean little to these people as they go along chattering and waving their hands and enduring the waste of time.

There seems to be an interminable amount of talking and delays on anything one wants to do. Half an hour... an hour... an hour and a half... go by and still nothing done."

Recovery Program Slow
 While in Paris, Mr. Keener conferred with an official of the European Recovery Program. The Salem industrialist is particularly optimistic about the program's possibilities in France.

"There seems to be a bit of confusion and lack of understanding of just what the next E.R.P. step will be," he found. "It is a good deal like the earlier days of the many bureaus in Washington."

"There hasn't been time to disseminate enough information and formulate actual policy lines so E.R.P. can move ahead at it should. But inasmuch as E.R.P. was granted funds only this summer and is seriously understaffed, this is to be expected."

"The E.R.P. scheme is exciting the interest of everyone I have talked to. Many of those who have thought it felt sure it has furnished stimulus to the moral outlook of these people."

"At the present time, most of the help from this end has been achieved by having Uncle Sam pass out his money. But I believe there is a fine chance of doing good with it in Europe—and particularly in France, because of the mental attitude of the people."

The National Broadcasting Co.'s television crew and the Associated Press made arrangements to have photographers on hand when the

A Labor Day Message

Since 1863, it has been the privilege of the First National Bank to co-operate with Labor whether from farm or factory, from mill, office or shop. During this time, we have helped to make the distinction between wage-earner and wage-payer less and less marked, for through systematic saving, the employed of one year becomes the employer of the next.

In observing the day dedicated to the American worker next Monday, we are proud of the fact that thousands of our customers will celebrate this holiday as their own.
